Sesil Jenkins, the late Marvin Gaye's last musical protege, is a powerful activist and advocate for our youth and their families. Motivated by his own personal story of trouble in his own youth, Mr. Jenkins has a deep-rooted passion to inform families of exactly where the break in communication between parents and children is, which led up to his amazing "Every Child Has A Dream" project.

Through the use of musical "Save The Children" concerts, tours, videos and all other industry tools, Sesil indulges and involves children in his project to help empower them and their families to learn to bridge the gap in their communication and empower themselves. With his long time commitment to helping children and their families, inspired him to the creation of Sesil & Lujon's newly released single "Full Fill My Needs".

Delecta "Lujon" Johnson

35 years of musical experience from playing instruments, writing lyrics & music, producing various artists, as well as played with notable bands. Appeared in music videos, talk shows, and performed in front of crowds from 1000-25,000 people.

The release of the new single “Full Fill My Needs” by Sesil & Lujon

Shortly after the release of the new single “Full Fill My Needs” on April 1, 2018, this song received a lot of radio play on three On-air radio shows. DJ’s interviewed Sesil Jenkins about Sesil & Lujon’s new single, and they talked about the many fond memories Sesil shared with Marvin Gaye. “FULL FILL MY NEEDS” opens a person’s mind and takes them to a wider spectrum of thought, leaving the imagination to wander. People throughout the world want so much and are in need of so many things. They need someone to talk with; someone to tell them it’s going to be alright. This musical production will hit home to millions who love the new R&B flavor that’s missing from mainstream radio in neighborhoods all around the globe. In the music industry, Sesil & Lujon have built a reputation of being funky, sophisticated, R&B Jazzsters with a message for the entire family.
